

Welcome

Thanks very much to our guests who came along to the launch meeting of BNI in Westhill. We would still like to extend an invitation to anyone else who would like to visit our chapter to experience some rewarding business networking.

Meanwhile in between helping people learn how to manage intranet content, develop Access databases, plan and track projects, and create sophisticated diagrams, we are also preparing to move to our new office in Westhill Business Centre at the beginning of June. More details to follow in June's newsletter.

If you want to keep your contacts up to date with what is happening in your business, see our featured course below.

You are receiving this because you have previously purchased from Nicholson Solutions, or have expressed an interest in our services. If you don't wish to receive this newsletter in future, just email and let us know.

User tip of the month:

Create a category in Outlook

In Outlook 2003 Contacts, select Edit, Categories and click on the Master Category List button. Enter a name and click Add to create a new category.

In Outlook 2007 Contacts, select Edit, Categorize, All Categories. You can either rename an existing category, or click New to create a new one and select a colour for it.

For example, create one called Newsletter, then edit each contact who should receive your newsletter, to select this category. You can now use the view By Category to see a list of all your newsletter recipients, and any other categories you have set.

Next month's featured course

Our featured course is Creating and Distributing email Newsletters.

In this course you will learn how to create and send newsletters by email using Word and Outlook.

You will:

- Create a template for your newsletter
- Create the document based on your template
- Issue your newsletter using Outlook Mail Merge

To make the most of this course you would benefit from having strong Word skills. Check

I'm sure there's a better way...

When we receive a training enquiry and the client begins by saying "We think we're not doing things the best way", or "It feels like we're going the long way round", then we know we have a group who will really benefit from training.

Our ideal clients are people who want to make the most of their investment in software, so people who are trying hard to use the amazing tools that are available to us today, and who suspect they could do it better, are ready to learn.

These are the ones who are likely to say in the course of a training day, "Oh that will be really useful", or "I know where I will use that", or even "Wait till I tell my colleagues about that!"

It is normal in our training courses that there will be a lot of discussion about how the software is used in the delegate's jobs, and how they can take advantage of the features they learn about. That's why we keep our group sizes small.

It's our pleasure to smooth the way for you in using day-to-day software tools, so if there is an Ouch! factor in your working day, give us a call...

Other scheduled courses

View our course diary for the coming month. We have courses scheduled in June for Word 2003, standard and advanced; Excel 2003, standard and advanced; Access 2003, Project 2003, Intermediate and PowerPoint 2003 standard.

We also have many of the courses available for Office 2007. Please enquire. In addition to our scheduled courses, we can arrange training on any of our topics. Other titles include Microsoft Visio, Adobe Dreamweaver, SharePoint and Sage. Call us to discuss your requirements.
